

TESOL position statement on accreditation for intensive English programs in the United States

With its mission to ensure excellence in English language teaching, TESOL has long supported efforts to advance professional standards and practice in the English as a second or foreign language (ESL/EFL) field. As demonstrated by its development of program standards and the Commission on English Language Program Accreditation (CEA), TESOL supports and recommends accreditation for intensive English programs (IEPs) in the United States.

*Approved by the Board of Directors
March 2004*