

APPENDIX A: Example Word List

relaxation
multitasking
perspective
exhausting
survey
no-brainer
logo
analyze implication
pressure
trend
juggle
efficient

workplace
value
product
brand name
promote cost-effective
high-tech
innovative technology
role
stressed-out pace

APPENDIX B: Example Vocabulary Word Sentences

The story is told from the perspective of a housewife in the 1920s.

This election has important implications for the future of U.S. democracy.

He had pressure from his father to become a doctor because his father and brother are also doctors.

Working mothers have to juggle their jobs, their children's needs, and their housework.

The question of who to choose for the Best Teacher of the Year should be a no-brainer. Of course, we should choose Mr. Brown.

Our assistant is very efficient. She completes all the tasks quickly and accurately.

It wouldn't be cost-effective to buy an expensive new computer when all you want to do is word processing.

He always comes up with new and interesting ideas. He is an innovative young man.

Newspapers play a major role in determining how people think about politics.

The pace of change in our lives is becoming faster and faster.

APPENDIX C: Example Cloze Sentences

The story is told from the _____ of a housewife in the 1920s.

This election has important _____ for the future of U.S. democracy.

He had _____ from his father to become a doctor because his father and brother are also doctors.

Working mothers have to _____ their jobs, their children's needs, and their housework.

The question of who to choose for the Best Teacher of the Year should be a _____. Of course, we should choose Mr. Brown.

Our assistant is very _____. She completes all the tasks quickly and accurately.

It wouldn't be _____ to buy an expensive new computer when all you want to do is word processing.

He always comes up with new and interesting ideas. He is an _____ young man.

Newspapers play a major _____ in determining how people think about politics.

The _____ of change in our lives is becoming faster and faster.